Golden Memories

Bishop Dwenger High School

1964

The Most Rev. Leo A. Pursley, D.D.
Bishop of Fort Wayne--South Bend

DEDICATION

As an appropriate testimony to our beloved Bishop Leo Pursley, who made these golden memories possible, we dedicate this book. A firm believer and leader in Catholic education, he is untiring in his efforts to provide Catholic educational facilities to every Catholic high school student in the South Bend--Fort Wayne Diocese. Bishop Dwenger high school is a tangible proof of his zeal and earnest endeavor. It is in deep appreciation that we present this pictorial review of the historical events in the first year of our school. In these pages we now share with our Bishop the joy of fulfillment!

Very Rev. Monsignor J. William Lester, diocesan superintendent of schools, and Rev. Edward J. Krason, principal of Bishop Dwenger high school, in early August of 1963 studied the blueprints of the school to locate the various departments. Through his far-sighted planning and his meticulous care of each small detail in the construction and the furnishing of Bishop Dwenger High, Monsignor Lester has produced a school of which the Fort Wayne--South Bend diocese is justly proud.

Since being named principal, Father Krason has given himself unstintingly to Bishop Dwenger High. Father is intensely interested in developing to the fullest the spiritual and intellectual potentialities of each student. To Father Krason, primarily, belongs the credit for that special esprit de corps so marked among Dwenger faculty and students.

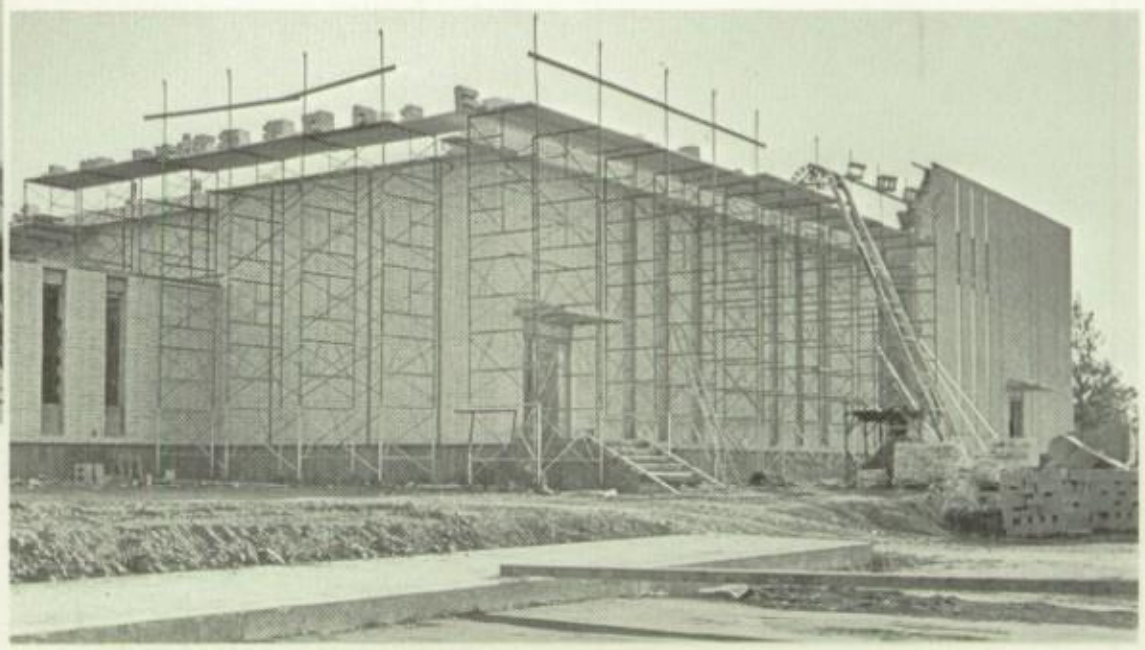
In this first year of the school's operation, Father, besides his administrative responsibilities, has taken on additional duties in guidance and in the teaching of religion and English.

Administration gave firm, energetic leadership

Sister M. Hedwigis, PHJC, vice-principal, came to Dwenger with a broad administrative background, which she has utilized this year to the great advantage of the school. Sister teaches math and also acts as dean of girls, advisor to the girls' vocation club, and moderator of the Mothers' Club.

Ground at site for Bishop Dwenger high school was broken zestfully by Monsignor Charles J. Feltes, former vical general of the diocese; Mox W. Pohlmeyer, architect; and Rev. William Faber of the building committee. Watching the hole grow that Oct. 21, 1962, were Joseph C. Weigand, Sr., in charge of the general construction; Sister M. Antonita, PHJC, Community supervisor of schools, and Monsignor J. William Lester, Diocesan superintendent of schools.

The ground was broken, and the building grew



Helping to prepare the cornerstone for insertion, members of the building committee are assisted by Sister M. Antonita, PHJC, and Sister M. Hedwigis, PHJC. Rev. Lawrence Fettig, Bert Dahm, John Sosenheimer, Joseph C. Weigand, Sr., Vernon Otte, and Rev. William Faber appear eager to add their share of mortar.

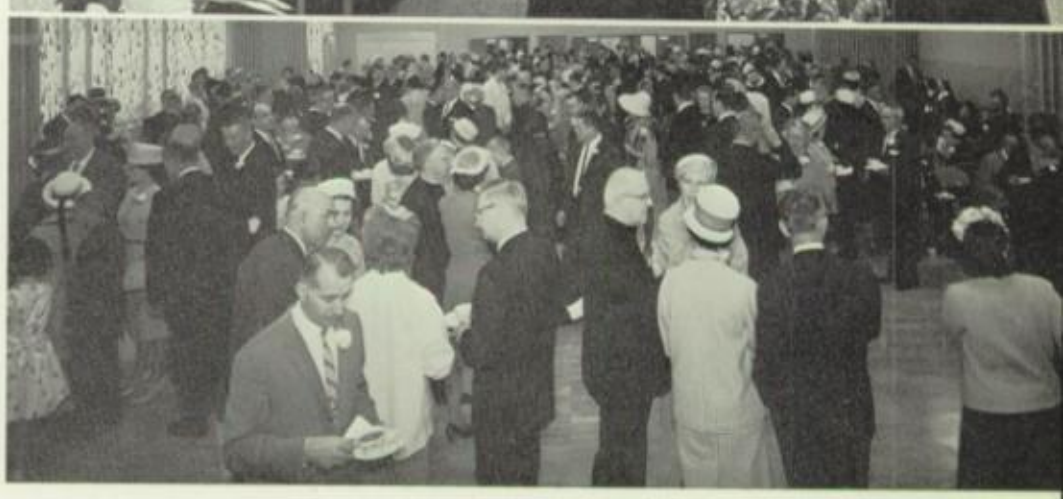
Bishop Pursley then blessed the cornerstone

Mass, blessing, and marked-Dwenger's

Bishop Pursley officiated at the dedication ceremonies April 10 and 12. On Friday, in the presence of the faculty, students, and a small group of invited guests, His Excellency blessed the building.

The Sunday program brought 6000 interested persons to tour the school and to take part in the Mass of Thanksgiving.

open house dedication days



Dwenger students sang the Mass with the Crosier fraters chanting the proper. On the stage the band of Central Catholic High played during the processional and recessional.

Assisting in the planning and preparation of the day, members of Dwenger's adult groups also took over special responsibilities on the day itself.

Garry Nash describes the rosary project as CSMC officials meet with Father Dombrowski. Others at table are Gregory Barwick, Susan Dillon, Janet Plasterer, Dave Carteaux, Rick San Pietro, Dennis Loney, Rita Bosler, Bette Witte, Vicki Besancon, and Dennis Carteaux.

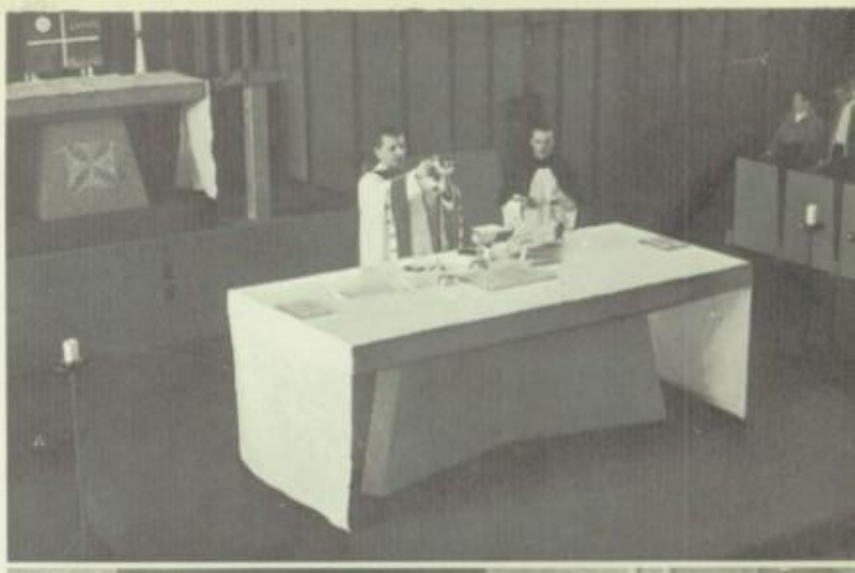
Spiritual activities

In the Dwenger chapel, Father Krason, served by John Casey, celebrates Holy Mass.

"Just what is the Sodality, Father?" query Fudy Roggy, Christine Johnson, Margaret Ankenbruck, Mike Russell and Chuck Ostman of Father Seculoff.

Mary Witte crowns Our Lady during the May Bible Vigil.



Students take part in a dialog Mass celebrated at the Crosier House of Studies.

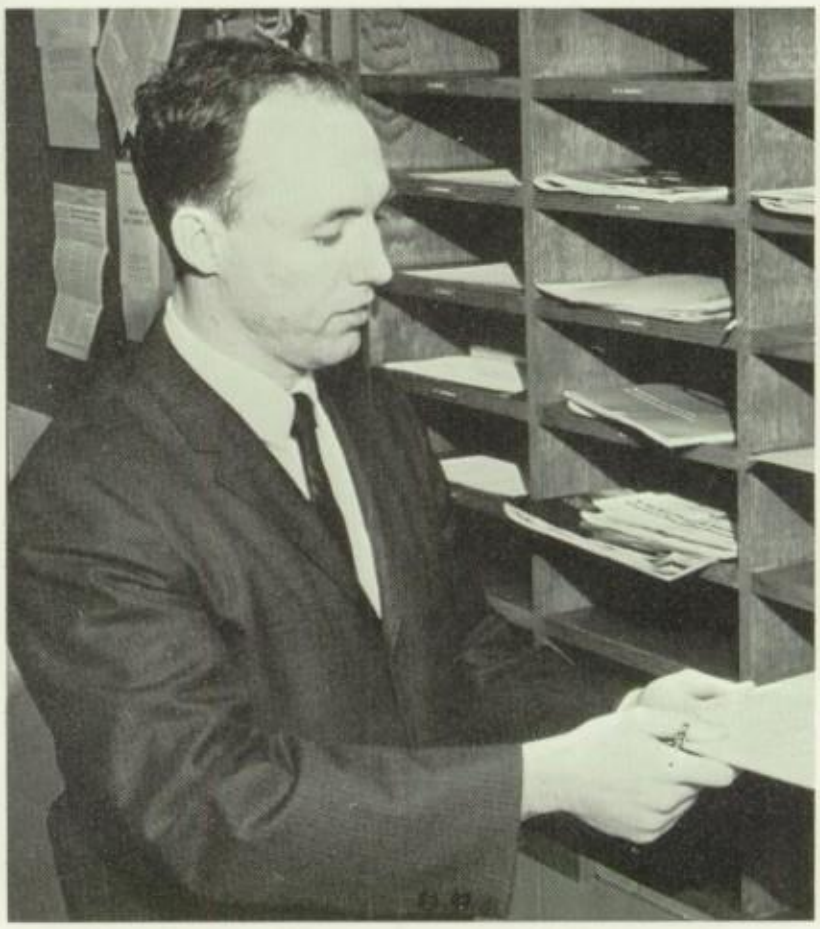
nourished soul-life

Dwenger guitarists provide the music for the Bible Vigils.

Vocations enthusiasts--Pat O'Dowd, Nannette Jones, Debbie Wagner, Mary Lou Sullivan, Delores Evard, Gena Leto and Kathy Cole--enjoy an Hour of St. Francis recording with Sister Hedwigis.

A dedicated faculty gave its all

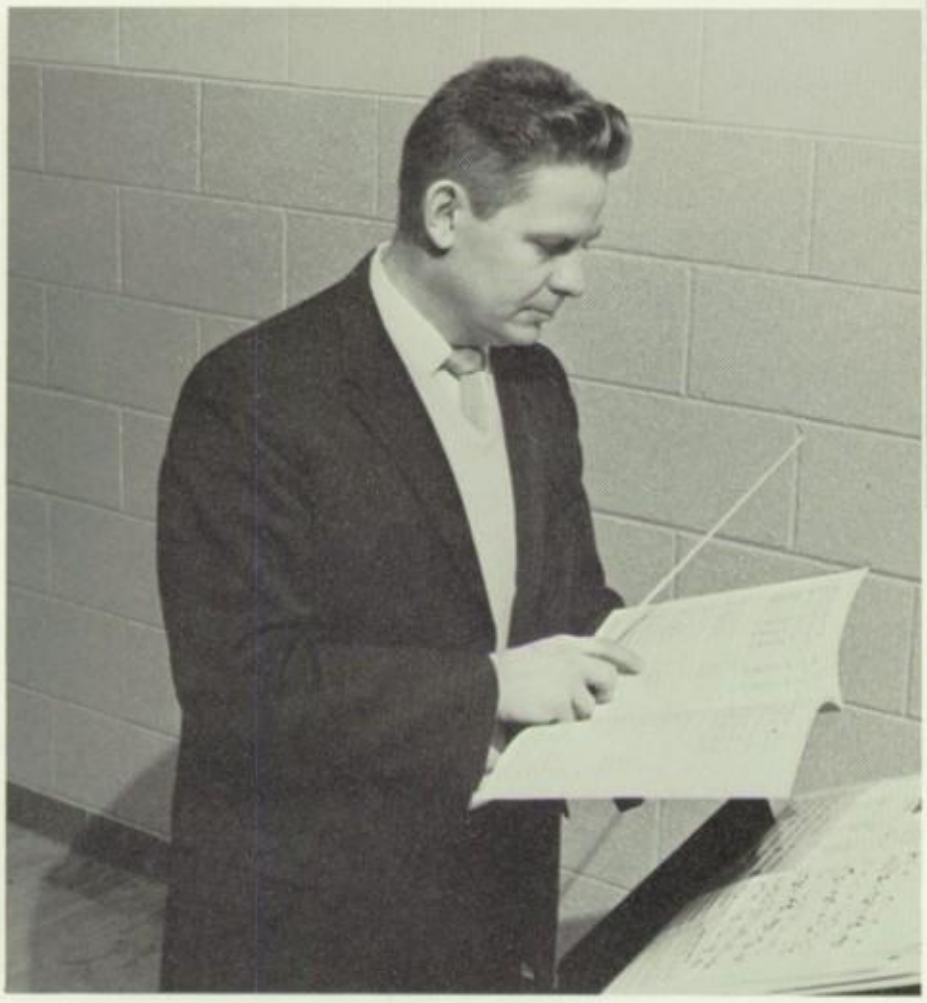
So that's what Father Donald Isenbarger carries in his black case. Papers from his religion and Latin classes. Perhaps there is also material referring to Father's other responsibilities as dean of boys, guidance director, and student council advisor.



Mr. Francis Colligan finds mail waiting for him. It could pertain to Latin or algebra as Mr. Colligan teaches both subjects.

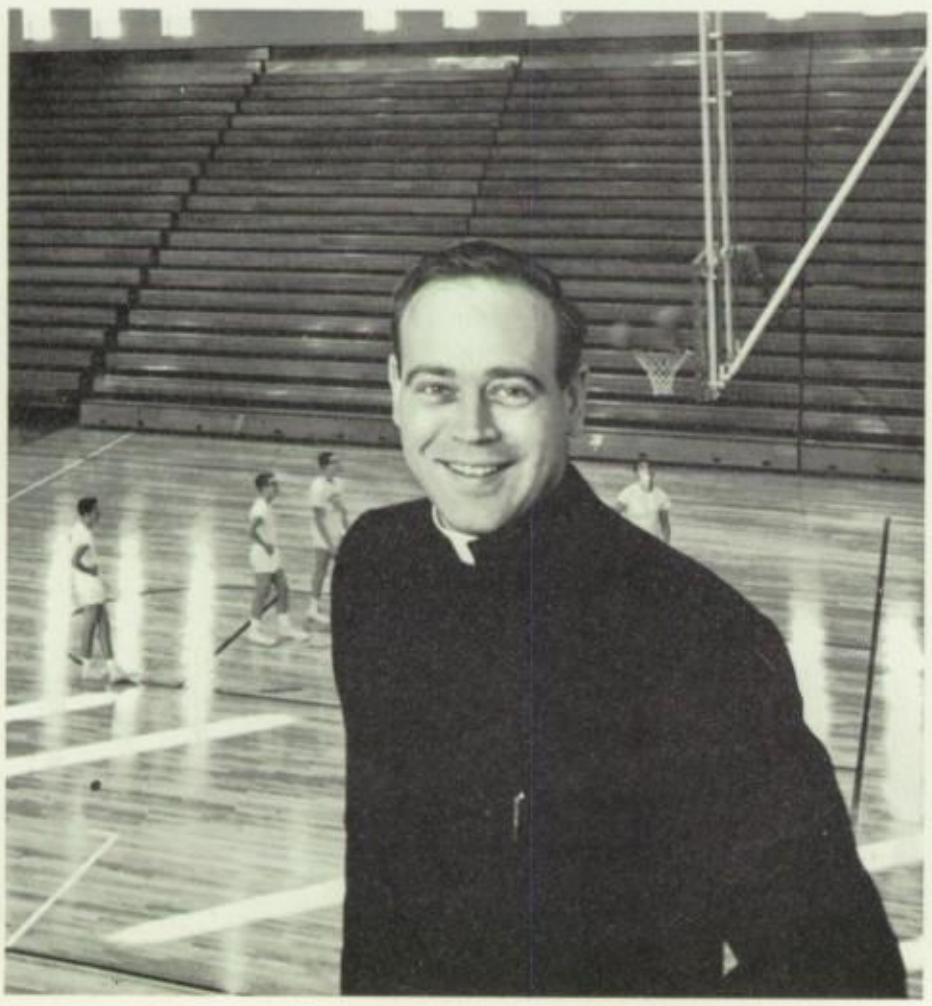
Father James Seculoff prepares to show a film on Napoleon to his history classes. Besides teaching history, Father also acts as director of the Sodality.

Priests of the Diocese of Fort Wayne-South Bend conduct the Boys' Department of Bishop Dwenger. Well-qualified laymen assist in the teaching.



Twice daily Father Robert Dombrowski travels Dwenger way to care for his religious students. Father has the CSMC under his direction too.

Searching for contest material, Mr. Richard Brown, band director, pauses to study a score.



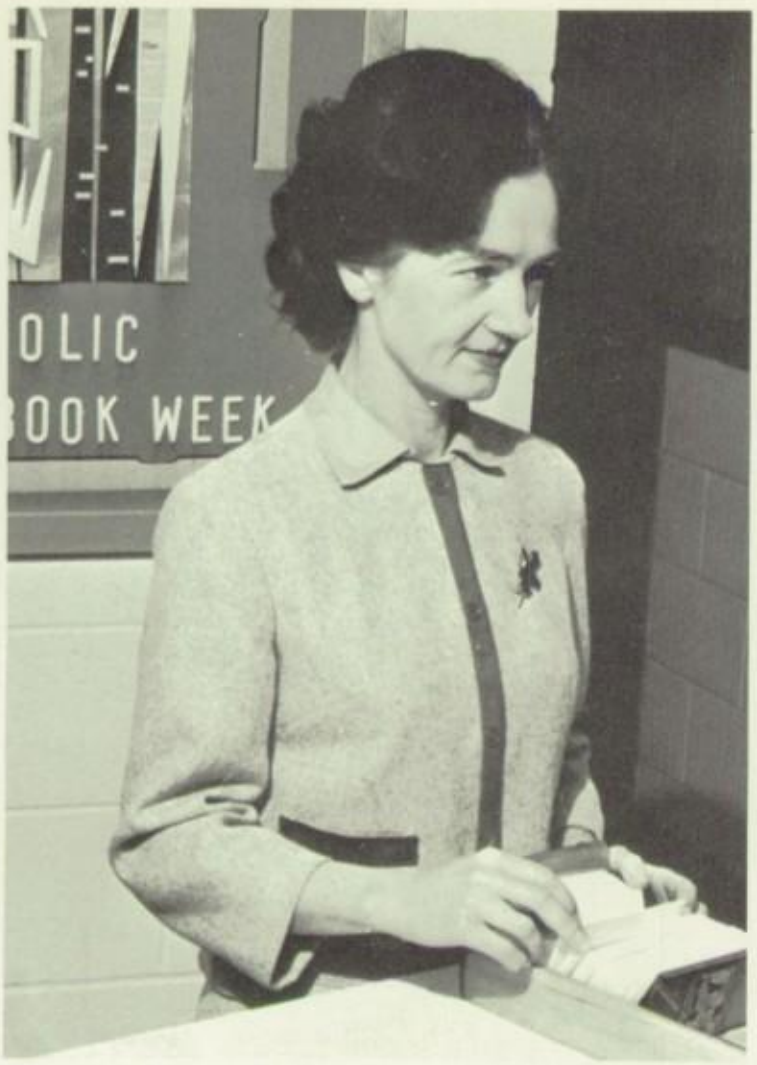
Father John Gillig is happy about his "workshop," Dwenger's gym. Father is athletic director and a teacher of health and safety and physical education classes.

The Girls' Department is under the supervision of the Poor Handmaids of Jesus Christ.

In the school's sacristy Sister M. Cleone prepares for the next day's Mass. It is Sister's voice that greets callers on the phone, and it is Sister who keeps the office running smoothly.

Diversity marked the Dwenger staff

It pays to advertise believes Sister M. Jeanne, organizer of the Kennedy Memorial Library. In addition to her duties as librarian, Sister Jeanne teaches English and moderates the group of yell leaders.



Miss Alina Sachnowska files cards as she assists in the school library. Health and safety students are in Miss Alina's classes.

Sister M. Susan brings in the 163 members of the Dwenger Chorus on the downbeat of her baton. Head of the music department, Sister directs the school's orchestra. History, health and safety, and general music classes are taught by Sister, who is also moderator of the Sodality.

Like Mother Hubbard's cupboard, the one in the publications' dark room is bare. Sister M. Xavier, in charge of the school paper and memory book, hopes to improve conditions. Sister teaches English, Latin, and history and is moderator of the CSMC.

The Home and School Association is the parent of all other adult organizations formed at Bishop Dwenger. Here with Father Krason and Sister Hedwigis, its officers study suggestions from HASA's diocesan office. Left to right the officers are Mrs. Carol Heyn, secretary; Cletus Junk, vice-president; Paul Schirmeyer, treasurer; Terry Coonan, president.

Adults backed school

Treasurer Mrs. John Dietsch, Secretary Mrs. Richard Forbing, President Mrs. Frederick Bosler, and Vice-President Mrs. Clarence Harrington conceive the many ideas that make the Mothers' Club active.

The Men's Club provides primarily for the athletic program at Dwenger. Its officers include Hubert Mettler, treasurer; James Shields, vice-president; Russell Scudder, president; Norman Loney, secretary. They are shown with Father John Gillig, moderator of the organization.

President Michael Shields finds student council members agreeably responsive to his proposal. SEATED: Chris Rosswurm, girls' vice-president; Ronnie Walz, boys' vice-president; Mike Shields, president; Father Isenbarger, faculty advisor; Barb Humphrey, secretary. STANDING: Greg Shaffer, treasurer; Chris Johnson, Greg Fosnaugh, Ken Schmidt, Pam Ummel, Mary Ellen Dietsch, Toni Intini, Tom Lombardi, Kathy Pulver, Dennis Kitt.

Was it the hat that influenced the votes?

Students assumed responsibilities

Memory book staffers relax as they leave school via publications room exit.

School publications kept students informed

"Let's put it here," Kent DeLucenay suggests to Mel Herber, as Sister M. Xavier, advisor, and several staff members of the GOLDEN TRUMPET, Dwenger's school paper, line up to give help and receive assignments. SEATED: Linda Beckman, Anne Flaherty, Kent, Mel, Suzi Dyer, and Sandy Harmeyer. STANDING: Frances Mannix, Sister M. Xavier, Janet Plasterer, Gena Leto, Jim Forbing, Susi Opliger, Nannette Jones, and Connie Lampke.

Musicians won medals in NISBOVA meets

Awaiting the arrival of Sister M. Susan, director, one section of Dwenger's 160-voice chorus, mentally rehearses the first number on the program. ROW 1: A. Stine, K. Farrell, K. Leahy, R. Goneau, T. Sutter, L. Wehrly, S. Bugert, C. Pulver, P. Fitch, F. Zbacnik, S. Cuellar, K. Mettler, Y. Pettit. ROW 2: L. Schlink, A. Linsky, S. Stack, A. Ferron, L. Boxberger, L. Bleke, J. Oury, A. Garrett, S. Kane, B. Reed, R. Hess, L. Hullinger, S. Todd. ROW 3: B. Nancarrow, B. Wolff, M. Bercot, D. Schaab, K. Smith, S. Giles, C. Derheimer, K. Thompson, C. Romano, C. McEntee, B. Neu, B. Croteau, S. Meyers. ROW 4: J. Wilson, S. Pequignot, S. Lash, G. Herrmann, W. Shive, B. Bazur, C. Ostman, J. Casey, D. Brown, L. Derheimer, M. Robertson, M. Comparet. ROW 5: D. Pemberton, E. Murach, K. Reed, T. Zimmerman, M. Richardson, M. Schirmeyer, J. Coughling, D. Wright, R. Smith, J. Stier, S. Schnelker, T. Leuenberger, M. Steffens.

McLaughlin prepares to shoot.

Terry dribbles
in close.

Climaxing a cheer, yell leaders leap into position. Janet Mellon, Pam Bowers, Connie Schuhler, Jacque Hargis, and Mary Evans form the semicircle.

Tap it this way, Dave.
